VALLEY "PENCIL PUSHERS" MET IN MONESSEN YESTERDAY

Were Guests of the Local Papers.—Spent the Afternoon in Visiting Mills, While Evening Was Devoted to Business

The Monongahela Valley Press association held its regular monthly meeting in Monessen yesterday, the members being the guests of the local papers. Nearly all of the papers between Monongahela and Brownsville were represented, in all about seventeen being present. Three new members joined the association at the business meeting in the evening.

The afternoon was spent in sight, seeing, the various mills being visited. All of the visitors were favorably impressed with the industries of our busy little city. The guests were entertained at supper at Hotel May, by the local papers, following which all repaired to the parlors and the business of the evening was taken up. The routine work was rushed through while three new members were taken into the association. They are Grover W. Boyd, of the Donora-American, Chas. E. Lewis, of the Donora News and Herbert K. Hamley, of the Monongahela Republican.

The principle subject which came up for discussion during the evening was relative to co-operation with the State Press League movement to have the Sale-Grady libel law repealed or modified.

Representative Frank Craven of California, Pa., was present and delivered an interesting address, in which he stated that he was favorable to the movement. The next meeting of the association will be held in Monongahela.

AT THE THEATRE

"Tracy, the Outlaw," a sensational melodrama in four acts and eight scenes will be seen at the opera house on Saturday evening, Oct. 27. This is the original play that as yet has been presented only in the larger cities of the country and it comes to Monessen with the highest recommendations of the press and public of nearby cities. A complete scenic production has been provided for this powerful melodrama The play is written around actual incidents in the life of one of the most remarkable bandits of recent times, whose career though brief, was replete with occurrences of the most sensational character.

To all lovers of exciting plays this life drama will come as a particular treat in theatrical offerings. Among the members of the cast that will present "Tracy the Outlaw" are W. C. Wild, Leo Curry, Roland H. Hill, Albert Robinson, Harry B. Turner, J. C. Connolly, Frank Bovay, Wm. Mac Donald, Geo. August, Natalie Perry and Jeannette Le Blanc. A list of excellent specialties will be rendered between the acts. Popular prices—25, 35, 50 and 75 will be in order on Saturday evening, Oct. 27. This production should not be confused with repertoire company performances.

Will Hold Meeting Tomorrow.

The citizens of Donora, the County Comissioner and the Congressmen from both Washington and Westmoreland counties will meet in Donora tomorrow, when it is thought the Donora-Webster bridge matter will be finally settled.

P. H. C.'S HELD DIME SOCIAL.

The members of the Protected Home Circle held a dime social, last evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bette, on Schoonmaker avenue. About 25 members of the order, together with a few friends, were present.

Games and music both vocal and instrumental furnished the evening's amusement. At 11 o'clock a delicious lunch was served. All who were present spent a very pleasant evening. Thursday evening of next week the members will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Crumm on Schoonmaker avenue.

Home Baked Bean Supper.

Another baked bean supper will be given November 3, in one of the rooms in the Eggers and Graham building, on Donner avenue, under the auspices of the Women's Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The women are ambitious to help provide the $100 yet needed to pay off the mortgage on the church lots, maturing November 10. The price will be only 15 cents.

Illustrated Lectrue Tonight.

An illustrated lecture will be delivered in the old First National Bank building, corner Eighth street and Donner avenue, this evening by Rev. J. Gerald Houston, who is a speaker of wide experience. The subject of the lecture will be "Playing the Game" with one hundred beautiful slides. Popular songs will be a feature of the program. Admission adults 25 cents children 15 cents. All are invited.

FOR RENT—One front room, furnished; inquire 136 Schoonmaker avenue.

GOOD WILL.

The banking business, like every other business, is dependent upon the good will of customers obtained by good service. This bank is characterized by a service that is daily attracting more depositors.

Monessen Savings and Trust Company.

Capital and Surplus, $180,000.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Miss Gertrude Bennett was tendered a birthday surprise last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kellenbeck, on First street. The guests about twenty-five in number, met at the home of Miss Mamie Conway, from where they went to the Kellenbeck home as a body. Miss Bennett was taken completely by surprise but soon recovered and proved herself a charming hostess.

Various games were indulged in, music both vocal and instrumental was ably rendered by the guests, and a most pleasant evening was spent. A delicious lunch which was served about 11 30 was the feature of the evening.

Funeral Tomorrow.

The funeral of the late Miss Annie Long, who died last Tuesday evening, will take place tomorrow morning. Services will be conducted in the A. M. E. church by the pastor, Rev. S. A. Lewis. Interment will be made in Monongahela cemetery.

CASHIER ANDERSON'S ACCOUNTS SHOW $36,000 DEFALCATION

Sensational Disclosures Follow Masontown Bank Officials Investigation.—Anderson Makes Confession, and was Placed Under Arrest.

One of the greatest surprises ever sprung in the southern end of Fayette county is the discovery that D. R. Anderson late cashier of the First National Bank of Masontown is a defaulter. The shortage in his accounts covers a period of three years. When the officers of the bank finally discovered that Anderson's accounts were crooked, he confessed to a shortage of $19,000. When Anderson tendered his resignation to take effect October 1, John C. Neff, of Pittsburg, a director in the bank and a well known business man of the Smoky City, employed expert accountants who found an apparent shortage of $36,000.

Several notes the payment of which are in dispute are in this amount. If these discrepancies are cleared up the shortage may fall to $25,000.

After confessing Anderson agreed to turn over to the bank all of his property and deeds of assignment have been prepared. In addition they have Mr. Anderson's bond as cashier in the sum of $10,000 from the Mercantile Trust Co., of Pittsburg, and although this bond expired in July, it is thought it will hold good for the shortage. Mr. Anderson's two sons, Ray and Edgar, have also conveyed their property in the real estate assignment.

A warrant was issued for Anderson's arrest, and was served by United States Deputy Marshal George S. Owens, on Anderson at Masontown on Monday. Anderson was brought to Uniontown where bond was entered in $5,000 for a hearing November 12, the bondsmen being Charles S. Smith of German township.

Anderson is one of the best known of the younger men of Fayette county. He was elected register and recorder of Fayette county in 1890.

Hill Tops Play Saturday.

At a recent meeting of the Hill Tops, Monessen's crack football team, Charlee McGinley was elected captain, and Ed. Doney manager. The Hill Tops play their first game at home Saturday, when they meet the Belle Vernon A. C.'s. Although the latter team outweighs them to a man the Hill Tops are going after the game in earnest. A warm struggle is assured. The Hill Tops are anxious to arrange games with any 128 pound team in this vicinity, bar none. Address communications to Hill Tops, care of the Daily Independent.

A Lively Roman Sauce.

Garum the Black general sauce of the Romans, was a species of universal condiment, but its principal use was for fish. The recipe is as follows. Let the cool, take several fishes, at neither not much which, but mackerel are the best for the purpose. Let him take out their entrails and put them in vinegar and leave them there for ten days. Then let them be taken out and dried and powdered in a mortar with pepper, frumenty, roots of dandelion, mint, thyme, sage and a little ginger and well mixed, after which the powder must be put in jars, together with honey, and left to ferment during several weeks. When ready for the table it must be mixed with Falernian wine.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism. Not a remedy that will straighten the bent thumbs of the cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

From backache, rheumatic pain,
Any ill of kidneys or bladder,
Turn to Doan's Kidney Pills.
A cure endorsed by thousands.
Read an old man's tribute.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

SIDNEY JUSTUS.

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Justus will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

AMERICAN ART.

The Way Men of Means May Promote Its Advancement.

It is an encouraging theory that all important art epochs have been preceded by epochs of great wealth, and it may well be that the present multiplication of large fortunes will be the foundation of a more ideal condition of society, affording, as these fortunes do, the support of extensive artistic undertakings, as did those of Genoa and Venice. And while it would be in the last folly to fill our museums exclusively with work by Americans, it is more and more to be expected that our artists will profit by the showing they make in such collections as the comparative exhibition of a few years ago, in which they held their own with foreign masters of the same departments.

The first way, therefore, to help American art is to buy worthy pictures by American artists. Our rich men—particularly our new recruits in this class—should bear in mind that an exhibition of, let us say, the Society of American Artists, has as high a standard of admittance as the Paris Salon and is likely to contain less trash, and that, purely as a matter of investment, to urge no higher motive, it pays to buy the best American work.

Another way for those who wish by their wealth to add to the pleasure of their countrymen is to give or bequeath a portion of it to a museum for the encouragement of native art, and to be of the highest efficiency such a benefaction should be without condition. It is said that in Boston it is not respectable to die without making a bequest to Harvard university or the Museum of Art. Certainly that city has an enviable reputation for the unceasing, ever vigilant civic pride and solidarity that made Emerson exclaim of it, "Thou darling town of ours!"—Century.

The Jehu of Bombay.

In no city in the world is there a public vehicular system so irresponsible and so dangerous to human life as in Bombay Even were the gharry walla a jehu of ordinary intelligence the principle of allowing Europeans to be chased by two or three gharrywallas "sahibing" for a fare would be an affront to the civilized public of the city. But the Bombay gharrywalla is notoriously the most stupid individual to be found on the earth's surface while as a coachman he is the personification of cruelty to his horse and of disregard of the public safety.—Bombay Gazette

BERRY'S BREAK GIVES "REFORM" A BAD SETBACK

Mol Shattered In That Famous Brick Yard Deal.

STATE TREASURER IS SCORED

Leading Newspapers of Pennsylvania Condemn Transaction With Institution Favored With State Funds.

State Treasurer Berry has not succeeded in getting the people of Pennsylvania to take his view of his recent brickyard financial transaction that "it is a private affair," with which his fellow citizens have nothing to do.

The sensational developments in connection with this matter have caused no end of talk and adverse comment throughout the state. Mr. Berry's course has met with almost universal condemnation.

The attempt of Mr. Berry and his friends to mitigate the effects of this expose by setting up the plea that the three other members of the state treasury board had forced the selection of the Harrisburg Trust Company as a depository is laughed at, because of the well-known fact that, while the board does vote on the selection of depositories, the State Treasurer alone determines the amount of the public funds which shall be allotted to each depository at the seductive rate of 2 per cent

One year ago, under Republican administration of the treasury, the Harrisburg Trust Company had only $220,000 of the general fund of the state, or about one-third of what Berry has alloted to it. The fact that the Harrisburg Trust Company has been favored by Mr Berry with one of the largest deposits in the state during the period in which that same company has been acting as trustee for the bond issue of the Fields Brick Company, in which Mr. Berry is the largest stockholder, will make it difficult for many persons to believe the State Treasurer has not employed his control over the public funds as a means of rewarding his business friends.

Has Been Most Liberal.

Berry's explanation that he went to Harrisburg to float his bonds because he did not want people in Chester to know his company was in the market for real estate has had little effect in lessening the sensational character of the news that he is doing business on a large scale with the holders of state deposits.

It is unfortunate for Berry that he should have found it necessary, in case he really had to go outside of Chester to find some one to finance his project, to have picked out the one bank in the whole state to which he has been most liberal in the distribution of the peoples' money.

A Quick Change Is This.

In this connection, the comment of leading newspapers of Pennsylvania is interesting.

Last year the Democrats, Prohibitionists and me-too Lincolnites rang all the changes of fraud in connection with the state treasury and the borrowing of money from the Enterprise Bank by Republican politicians, says John J. McLaurin, in the Oil City Derrick Homer L Castle stumped the commonwealth to sound the praises of William H Berry, the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer, and denounced to a finish William H Andrews and other Republicans for getting funds from a bank that held state money on deposit. Berry was to "lift the lid," if elected, and reveal a terrible condition of affairs He won out enough weak-kneed Republicans to give him the victory, taking sufficient stock in the hue and cry to cast their ballots for Berry

The new Treasurer, who had posed as a reformer of the thirty-third degree, implacable and immaculate foe of the practices he and his henchmen in the campaign had "damned from Dan to Beersheba and return," assumed his office in due time Promptly he lifted the lid, and it paralyzed him and the whole herd of corruption shriekers to find every cent of the $13,000,000 in the treasury What next?

William H Berry has scarcely warmed his official chair when, as disclosed within the last three days, he did precisely what William H Andrews had done—borrowed money from a bank having state deposits. His case was especially aggravated because of his position as custodian of the state's cash. Andrews was not a state officer, yet he was hounded and traduced as cash. Andrews was not a state officer; crime.

Berry as a Borrower.

From the Harrisburg Trust Company, in which he has placed about twice the amount of public money his Republican predecessor saw fit to deposit with that corporation, William H. Berry has borrowed $50,000, giving as security a mortgage upon a brickyard and real estate in Chester county, alleged not to be worth nearly this snug amount! The same trust company is on his bond for $500,000, making "only a nominal charge" for this important service, as Berry himself admits. It would be interesting and edifying to know just what interest or commission the company has actually obtained for the loan. Berry has outdone Andrews completely, and the shock to the fusion band of office hunters is indescribable. William H. Berry, the man who went on the platform last week to tell how $2,000,000 graft would be unearthed in the furnishing and equipment of the capitol," is the latest "reformer" to fall by the wayside, "hoist by his own petard."

It might gratify the public to know exactly the financial relations between Mr Berry and the Harrisburg Trust Company. Suppose he make an affidavit that he receives no personal benefit from keeping a big sum on deposit with the company, that he pays the usual rates for the $50,000 loan, and that none of the money so borrowed was given him some time before the mortgage was executed.

Who'll be the next fellow who cries "wolf" to be "weighed in the balance and found wanting?"

Berry's Brick Yard.

State Treasurer Berry is a shattered idol, says the Lancaster New Era. Not only has he been proved to be a deliberate falsifier in his political speeches, but he has also been exposed as a fraud and humbug. When he went through the state last fall, seeking office, he laid the greatest stress upon the fact that prominent Republicans had borrowed money from banking institutions in which state money was deposited He did not dare charge that the money was not borrowed in a legitimate way, protected by proper collateral, and repaid when due, but the fact that anybody interested in politics should borrow money for his private business in Berry's view presumed a crime. That, of course, was before Berry had secured his election by false pretenses and the alluring prospect of making a profitable investment in a brickyard venture had presented itself. The change of conditions seems to have worked an entire change of view in Mr. Berry. As State Treasurer he saw nothing improper in going to a Harrisburg trust company, which enjoyed a large deposit and had gone on his bond for a nominal consideration, and from it securing a large personal loan, although the same act on the part of a Republican would, of course, have been a grave crime But now that he has started out to explain the transaction, he appears to be getting into deep water. He says he went to the Harrisburg bank, with which, prior to becoming State Treasurer, he never did any business, because he desired to keep the deal a secret in his home city of Chester, yet the facts show that the details of the transaction were attended to by a Chester trust company, which precluded the possibility of its being a secret in his home town. Mr. Berry must look for a better excuse.

We fear Mr. Berry is a good specimen of the latter-day "reformer," who tries to make up in pharisaical pretension what he lacks in everyday honesty and truthfulness. Another idol has apparently been shattered and another fraud exposed.

Why Was Berry Elected.

It is of no earthly advantage for fusion organs to attempt a protection of State Treasurer Berry, declares the Titusville Herald. He has been caught with the goods in his possession. After parading his virtues in flowery rhetoric, he is forced to admit himself guilty of the very misdemeanors he charged against others He has placed the state's money where he could borrow readily to promote personal interests. He is bonded by a company "on very nice terms," which has more than $700,000 of state funds on deposit. It was to correct such wrongs as this that Mr. Berry was elected What do the Republicans who elected him think that character of reform?

Berry Gets Tangled.

Berry has got his Pharisaical robe in the dirt and has become seriously tangled as his own statements indicate, says the Meadville Tribune, Republican He says that when he was about to assume the duties of his office, a guarantee company demanded $2500 a year to guarantee his bond, and that, in the emergency, the Harrisburg Trust company agreed to become his bondsman for a nominal sum He also says that when the board of officers, of which he is one, met to designate the banks in which the state funds might be deposited, he voted against selecting the Harrisburg Trust company as one of the state depositories Let it be remembered that, while the depositories are selected by a board, no one except the state treasurer has any right to say how much of the state funds shall be deposited in any one of these banks Mr. Berry, after the Harrisburg Trust company was made a depository against his vote, deposited in that bank over $700,000, being a larger sum than was deposited in any other bank in the state After this, Mr. Berry borrowed $50,000 from this bank, giving as security a brick yard. The ordinary reader will begin to think Mr. Berry considers a public office a private snap, but, looking at the matter in the light of his own admission it represents him as devoid of the ordinary honor which any gentleman is expected to have.

Some will think that when he "lifted the lid" it swelled so nice that he couldn't resist the temptation to get into the soup. There is where he is now, and he doesn't seem to have much skill in crawling out. Let the humbugged Republicans who deserted their post of duty and voted for Berry last year, take a look at him now and make amends by future fealty to the most honest party the country ever knew.

An Ordinance

An ordinance authorizing the grading curbing and paving of that section of Ninth street lying between Donner avenue and Schoonmaker avenue in the Borough of Monessen, Westmoreland County, Pa., directing the Borough Engineer to prepare proper plans and specifications and authorizing the President and Secretary of Council, and Chairman of Streets and Roads Committee and Burgess to give all necessary legal notices to enter into contract for the construction of the same and providing for the expense thereof.

WHEREAS, Donner Avenue and Schoonmaker Avenue are paved and improved streets and a section of Ninth Street lying between said Donner Avenue and Schoonmaker Avenue is unimproved and in two hundred ten (210) feet in length and—
